

SUNDOG THEATRE
at Staten Island Children's Museum

Acting Classes for Young Adults

Fall 2010

Classes Include:

How an actor prepares: improvisation, monologues, scene study, vocal exercises, movement, theatre games.

Final presentation onstage of what students have been working on for the semester.

Builds creativity and confidence – for beginning & intermediate students.

$135 per student ($15/class - 9 classes)

Who, When, Where:

Males/Females 13-20 years old Wednesdays 7:00 – 8:30pm

September 15, 29, October 6, 13, 20, 27, November 3, 10, 17

Taught by professional actress/director Susan Fenley

Member of Actors Equity Association & Screen Actors Guild. An actor, singer, and mime for over 20 years for stage, movies, TV, and print. Part of Wagner College Theatre faculty, teaching acting, improvisation, and mime to theatre majors. Also coaches for auditions and entry into acting schools. Taught at American Academy of Dramatic Arts and Theatre of Light in California and Paper Mill Playhouse in New Jersey. Has worked with companies including L.A. Actors Theatre, LaMama, Twelfth Night Repertory Co., Snug Harbor, and Cherry Lane Theatre. Executive/artistic director of Sundog Theatre in NYC. Studied at U.S. International University School of Performing Arts in CA and HB Studios NYC.

All classes at the Staten Island Children's Museum
Snug Harbor, 1000 Richmond Ter., Staten Island, NY 10301

Download Sundog registration form at www.sundogtheatre.org
More information: 718-816-5453